WORK SUMMARY

Hudson Fuggle - Mid-weight Front-end developer 07/15 - Present

After joining the Hudson Fuggle team mid 2015 I was immediately thrown into juggling numerous projects and clients. As the sole web developer for the company I've built a number of websites from the ground up using the latest SASS and bootstrap frameworks. I've also effectively introduced the use of Trello and Github into the team to streamline project management and future proof website work using a version control system.

Nervous Horizon Record Label - Freelance Graphic / Web designer & developer 02/15 - 03/17

I was brought into the Nervous Horizon team to be their in-house designer and web developer after they had seen the work I'd done for my Insert Project. I was involved in art directing their white label vinyl series as well as designing all their digital release artwork. I also designed and developed their website (<http://nervoushorizon.com>). For each of their events I was required to design a flyer for print, as well as different versions to be presented across their social platforms.

insurethebox - Mid-weight Front-end developer 04/12 - 07/15

As the company grew my role changed to no longer being a junior web developer and to take on more responsibilities throughout projects. The company also introduced Agile Development, which meant we began to work in a Scrum team to estimate and develop system changes that improve and manage a large scale commercial system.

insurethebox - Junior Front-end developer
06/11 - 04/12

When starting at insurethebox as a junior web developer it gave me a great opportunity to be able to widen my knowledge in various coding languages. I came into the with sufficient knowledge in HTML, CSS and jQuery but I was able to expand this and also begin to use new languages such as SASS. Additionally, due to the small size of the company I have had extensive input with different design aspects of insurethebox products, including re-branding the front end of the website, the customer portal and quote forms.

Insert - Director / Web Designer & Developer / Art Director
11/12 - Present

Insert has been a personal project of mine since I co-founded it in November 2012. Since then it has grown from a hobby to a small side business. I find Insert to be a good outlet for myself to try new technology and new web based ideas and allowing to always expand my knowledge in various web languages. I've used Insert to learn SASS coding to a high level as well as techniques such as font based iconography

No Hat No Hoods Recordings - Freelance Graphic / Web Designer
07/10 - 12/13

My role when working with this up and coming record company was to produce the majority of their design work; ranging from full release covers, which were then published digitally on many digital distributors of music. I was also responsible for the design of the various other online sources that the record company have, for example social networking sites, Facebook, Twitter, also YouTube and their personal website (<http://nohatsnohoods.co.uk>).

EDUCATION

Media Production BSc Hons (2:1 Class Degree)
De Montfort University, Leicester
09/07 - 07/10

Christ the King Sixth Form College, Lewisham
09/05 - 07/07

INTERESTS

In my own time I co-run an online blog/magazine (<http://weareinsert.com>). I founded this in November 2012 and since then have continued to develop its online stature. The main idea behind this project was to compile a platform for upcoming artists to voice their creativity; whether it be underground music, or local London art culture. Another facet of Insert is a DJ collective under the same name which I am part of. We have recently started a 2 hour radio show on NTS after having previously been on Mode FM and Radar Radio.
